BRITISH WARSHIPS JOIN IN SHELLING JAPAN

Big Three Conference Opens with Truman Presiding

World Leaders Exchange Views At Brief Parley

Russia's Role in Pacific Expected To Rank High on Agenda

By DANIEL DE LUCE
POTSDAM, July 17 (AP)—The Big Three held the first full-session of their great victory conference at 5 p. m. today, and President Truman was invited to preside during the conference.

A joint communique issued by Truman, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill also said that during the meeting which lasted one and a half hours, "the preliminary exchange of views took place on the matters requiring decision by the heads of the three governments."

The war against Japan unquestionably ranked high on the agenda of the three governmental chiefs, their foreign secretaries, and military advisors.

The communique text:

"The Berlin conference of the heads of the governments of the United Kingdom, the United States of America, and the Soviet Union met this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

"By invitation of his two colleagues, the president of the United States of America will preside at the meeting of the conference.

"The preliminary exchange of views took place on the matters requiring decision by the heads of the three governments."

"It was decided that the three foreign secretaries should hold regular meetings with a view to preparing the work of the conference."

Score of Major Problems

There was no indication as to what specific "matters requiring decision" had been touched upon, or how strongly, at this first parley in which Missouri-born Truman occupied the center of the Big Three.

It was generally considered by observers however, that out of more than a score of major problems varying from occupation policy to settling the date of the peace conference, the one which was attached to whether Stalin will change Russia's role in the Pacific war from a passive to an active ally against Japan.

The communique was issued to correspondents shortly after 11 p. m. in a special meeting. Other than brief wordage, the only added comment from the American officer who read it aloud was to stress that it was a joint communique from the heads of all three governments.

"Please don't assume that it's strictly an American announcement," he said.

Whether the opening session devoted much attention to the Pacific war problem was not known, but as soon as it ended, Truman conferred during the dinner hour with Secretary of War Henry Stimson, Admiral Ernest P. King and General George Marshall and H. H. "Hap" Arnold.

Minimum of Formality

There was a minimum of formality as President Truman, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill opened their discussions which may secure the peace of Europe, speed victory over Japan and settle the basis of the German peace treaty.

Early defeat of Japan was reported to be a primary purpose of the Potsdam conference.

Strict official secrecy was maintained around the meeting site—the Kaiser Wilhelm palace, bordered by flowers, a lake and miniature park. (Continued on Page 8, Col. 6)

Okinawa-Based Planes Batter Kyushu Targets

MANILA, Wednesday, July 18 (AP)—Heavy aerial strikes from Okinawa against Kyushu, southernmost of Japan's home islands, were reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Bombers and fighters of the Fifth and Seventh air forces struck airfields, rail and water transport and military centers. They also blasted islands south of Kyushu.

Other planes of the MacArthur command again swept Formosa in neutralization raids while heavy bombers roared across the China sea to bomb an arsenal, an airfield and shipping. More than 100 river boats were wrecked when the Yank forces rained bombs in the Amoy, Swatow and Hong Kong areas.

In the co-ordinated aerial attacks on Kyushu, the American fleet hit the Usa-Tomika airfield, continued today to meet stubborn Japanese resistance as they pushed northeast from Balikpapan.

They were on the main highway to Samarinda, some sixty miles ahead, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported in today's communique.

The Australian out. Seppingsan airfield into use, little more than a fortnight after its capture.

Stiffening resistance also appeared to have stalled an Australian column Monday on the outskirts of the Sambodje oil fields.

For the second consecutive day, sharp patrol activity marked the campaign to win control of Borneo's most productive oil lands.

Tough Going in Borneo

MANILA, Wednesday, July 18 (AP)—Australian ground forces on Borneo, measuring their advance in yards, continued today to meet stubborn Japanese resistance as they pushed northeast from Balikpapan.

They were on the main highway to Samarinda, some sixty miles ahead, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported in today's communique.

The Australian out. Seppingsan airfield into use, little more than a fortnight after its capture.

Stiffening resistance also appeared to have stalled an Australian column Monday on the outskirts of the Sambodje oil fields.

Truman Would Abolish Surplus Property Board

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress to abolish the three-man surplus property board and give the job of selling $100,000,000 in war goods to a single administrator.

William Stuart Symington, St. Louis manufacturer who was sworn in as board chairman only yesterday, was regarded as the president's likely choice for the world's greatest merchandising task.

In asking Congress to wipe out the board it created last October, Mr. Truman called it undesirable to keep the responsibility for a disposal effort requiring "quick and decisive action."

The chief executive thus implied his recognition of disputes which split the board under Symington's predecessor, former Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa).

Gillette's disagreements with the other board members delayed action for weeks on some policy decisions, he admitted, and led to his resignation. Departing, Gillette advocated the single-administrator plan.

House leaders said the reorganization would not likely reach the stage of congressional action until early October.

Reaction to the plan was lacking, for the moment, from the two board members held over from the Roosevelt administration, Lt. Col. Edward H. Heller, of California, was absent from today's board meeting and Robert A. Hurley, former Connecticut governor, sent word he had no comment.

In reopening a surplus disposal battle which echoed through Congress for weeks last fall, Mr. Truman noted in a message that the administration of surplus sales—now running nearly $50,000,000 a month—"becomes increasingly difficult as the rate of surplus declarations rises."

Mr. Truman recalled that last year Secretary of State Byrnes, then director of war mobilization, urged the single-administrator plan.

Japanese Claim "Counter-Strategy"

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17 (AP)—Tokyo radio claimed today that Japanese arms have a "counter-strategy" for the relentless American fleet and aerial bombardment which has hit Japanese industrial targets for the third time in four days without so much as a chopstick returned raised in opposition.

"It is vitally necessary that we preserve our strength and strike with lightning effect," Domei said. "We must not move until the time is ripe. We must not play into the enemy's hands."

Domei recalled that in 1904 Admiral Kamimura had waited to catch the Russian fleet and knock it out, and concluded: "As in 1904, the Japanese must also wait the right moment."

Admitting that Kyushu island is within reach of land-based American planes from Okinawa and Iwo Jima and that B-29s repeatedly raze the empire as far north as the Kanto district, Domei offered this thought: "This bluntly reveals the seriousness of the war situation."

Another Tokyo broadcast said that Premier Kantaro Suzuki saw the emperor at the unusual hour of 5 p. m. today to report on "general administration" after a cabinet meeting lasting more than two hours.

This step attracted attention despite Suzuki's announced determination not to resign, because of military setbacks, in the manner followed by his two wartime predecessors, Hideki Tojo and Kuniaki Koiso.

Great Lakes Liner Swept by Flames

SARNIA, Ont., July 17 (AP)—Fire swept the cruise ship Hamonic at a dock here today forcing 350 passengers and crew members to scramble over her sides to safety.

The list of those injured in falls, sliding down ropes or suffering from burns was expected to exceed 150. Nearly ten hours after the fire broke out, no loss of life had been reported.

Tonight the Hamonic lay, a smoking hulk, her superstructure burned away and her bow jammed into the St. Clair river bank.

The flames raged 1,000 feet of two-story Canadian National Railway storage sheds and destroyed twelve loaded and twenty-one empty freight cars.

George Andrew, harbor master at Point Edward, where the Hamonic had docked this morning to take on cargo, estimated total damage from the fire would reach $2,000,000.

The 5,265-ton Hamonic, 360 feet long and one of the larger Great Lakes passenger-freight ships operated by the Canada Steamship Lines, left Windsor, Ont., and Detroit last night enroute to Duluth, Minn. Aboard were 290 passengers and 130 crew members, with eighty to eighty-five more passengers scheduled to board her here this afternoon.

WAVES Leader Engaged

Franco Promises Return of Royal Regime to Spain

Generalissimo Says Monarchy Is His Only Possible Successor

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ
MADRID, July 17 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco declared tonight that Spain was entering the preparatory period for return of the monarchy, which he said must guarantee the "essentials" of the Falangist movement.

He told cheering members of the Falange National Council that when the time came to make the change the Spanish Cortes (parliament) would be handed a law establishing the royal regime. The monarchy, he emphasized, was his only possible successor.

In a thirty-five-minute speech, Franco reaffirmed his faith in the Falange, asserting that his regime was misunderstood abroad, and attacked communism. While discussing monarchy he made no direct reference to Prince Juan, heir presumptive to the now non-existent Spanish throne, who has said he would not reign over a Falangist regime.

"The 32-year-old prince, third son of the late King Alfonso XIII, declared in a statement issued at Lausanne, Switzerland, last March 22 that Franco's regime was modeled on the Axis totalitarian system and was contrary to the "character and tradition" of the Spanish people. He called upon Franco to resign and bring lasting peace to Spain by restoration of the monarchy, warning that Spain was in danger of another civil war."

Franco, in declaring that the nation was heading toward the traditional form of Spanish political government said "the institution we are to forge must prove stronger than the mistakes which may be made by individual rulers. The best law will be the law of the Falangist spirit we have."

Franco said "we must fix my succession in accord with the majority of Spaniards. I must declare that there is no room for option in the regime to be chosen, which is the traditional regime and which I defended repeatedly."

"I always said that we were going by steps toward it. I am not ignorant of the dangers of this step, but I am certain that this monarchy must have all the guarantees to incarnate our greatest monarchs."

Wing for World's Largest Airplane

THIS IS THE WING of the Hughes Hercules, called by its builders the biggest plane in the world, now nearing completion in the Hughes Aircraft Company plant in Culver City, Calif. The wing is 320 feet from tip to tip and thirteen feet thick at the hull. The plane, built entirely of wood at a cost of $20,000,000, will be powered by eight engines, each developing 3,000 horsepower. When completed the plane will have a gross weight of more than 200 tons.

Two German Policemen Will Hang For Murder of Baltimore Flier

PREISING, Germany, July 17 (AP)—Two German police officers were convicted today and four other defendants acquitted by a United States military commission holding a trial for the murder of a Baltimore, Md. flier who parachuted from a burning bomber last December.

Albert Bury, police chief who testified he had ordered the shooting of Tech. Sgt. Donald Ley Hein, was sentenced to be hanged along with Wilhelm Haefner, the policeman who said he fired the fatal shot. Hein's widow is Mrs. Melva M. Hein, of Baltimore.

The finding of the six-member commission of the United States Third Army is subject to review by Gen. Patton.

The four defendants acquitted were Wilhelm Plitt and Karl Henkel, two other policemen in the town of Langelsbald, in which the shooting occurred, and Albert Looser and Lt. Kalte, officials of the Hanau district.

During the trials, held for two defendants at a time over a three-day period, Bury and Haefner admitted their part in the slaying of the young sergeant, who dropped from a flaming United States Eighth Air Force bomber near Hanau on December 12, 1944.

Bury said he ordered Haefner to kill Hein because of secret orders received last October from higher authorities.

Haefner testified calmly that he had marched the flier to a woods on the edge of the village and then fired a single shot through his head from a distance of fifteen feet. He said the victim was not informed of what was going to happen and was injured.

Mrs. Schaueremann, 21, denied in court that she had any intention of scolding the boy but said the water was hotter than she intended it to be. Little Walter James Schaueremann's feet and buttocks were injured.

Assistant State's Attorney Thomas N. Bidson told Judge Sadler that Mrs. Schaueremann left her husband last May 9 to take an apartment with Sadler. The court then commented that she was "a very selfish mother, who was willing to cavort around with some man and neglect her children."

The acquittal on the charge of burning the boy with cigarettes, given after Bidson explained that the only account was that of the youngster himself. Under the rules of evidence, a child so young is not considered a competent witness.

Previously, at a custody hearing, Mrs. Schaueremann denied the child was burned with cigarettes. She said the more than a score of round scars on his body were caused by impetigo, a skin disease. She also said that Sadler was only a visitor at her apartment.

Both the boy and his sister, Linda, 2, now are with their father, George Schaueremann, a railroad employee. Schaueremann has filed divorce proceedings against his wife, a native of Germany who has been in this country about eight years.

OPA Approves Boost In Anthracite Prices

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—A fifteen-cent-a-ton increase in the retail price of anthracite was approved today by the regional Office of Price Administration.

The OPA said the boost was made "to permit a more adequate return on coal dealers' investments." The dealers have complained that they were suffering a loss of sixteen cents per ton under present ceilings.

Home-Front Agencies Bill Signed by Truman

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—President Truman today signed a $79,364,850 appropriation bill financing operations of seventeen home-front agencies for the current fiscal year.

Containing $35,000,000 for the Office of War Information and $25,000,000 for the Fair Employment Practice committee, the bill was the last of the big supply measures of the present Congress.

Woman Receives Prison Sentence For Scolding Son

BALTIMORE, July 17 (AP)—The young mother of a 4-year-old boy was sentenced today to six months' imprisonment for placing him in a sink full of scalding water while attempting to punish the lad.

Judge J. Abner Sawyer acquitted Mrs. Clara Schaueremann, however, of a charge of assaulting the boy by burning him with cigarettes, in which she was jointly accused with Carl B. Sadler. The cases against Sadler were postponed.

Mrs. Schaueremann, 21, denied in court that she had any intention of scolding the boy but said the water was hotter than she intended it to be. Little Walter James Schaueremann's feet and buttocks were injured.

Assistant State's Attorney Thomas N. Bidson told Judge Sadler that Mrs. Schaueremann left her husband last May 9 to take an apartment with Sadler. The court then commented that she was "a very selfish mother, who was willing to cavort around with some man and neglect her children."

U. S. Will Check Hitler Report

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The State department is going to check up on a report that Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun are hiding out in Argentina.

It directed the United States embassy in Buenos Aires to follow up a Chicago Times story from Montevideo which said Hitler and his alleged wife have found haven in Patagonia.

Argentina has assured other Allied governments that it would not harbor Axis war criminals.

The Chicago Times story was from Correspondent Vincent DePascual. He said he was virtually certain that Hitler and the woman he is supposed to have married in Berlin's last days "are on an immense, German-owned estate in Patagonia."

"The pair reportedly landed on a lonely shore from a German submarine which supposedly returned to surrender to the Allies," DePascual wrote.

Other stories have had Hitler put to death on his own orders. Some Germans claimed to have seen him and Eva Braun's bodies in Berlin. Allied sources have not agreed definitely on what happened to them.

BUENOS AIRES, July 17 (AP)—Cesar Ameghino, foreign minister of Argentina, today denied there was any truth to a report that Adolf Hitler and his reported bride, Eva Braun, were in the Argentine, in the next few days.

Combined Fleet Pounds Hitachi's War Industries For Two Hours

Dreadnaughts, Six Miles from Shore, Pour Shells into Target without Meeting Opposition

By HAMILTON W. FARON
GUAM, Wednesday, July 18 (AP)—The British battleship King George V and her escorting ships joined the United States Pacific Fleet's 45,000-ton dreadnaught, Iowa, and other powerful warships in a great bombardment force to shell copper and war industry plants at Hitachi, only eighty miles from Tokyo, early this morning.

This was the first time British men o'war had fired shells into the Japanese homeland.

(The Japanese Domei agency, acknowledging the bombardment of the Hitachi area hours later said it extended as far southward as Mito, only fifty-five miles northeast of Tokyo. The English-language broadcast beamed to North America described the force, however, as "a small number of surface craft," and said the assault caused "only slight damage.")

B-29s Reported on Raid

(The enemy radio also said "a small number" of Superforts were ranging over the Northeastern Kanto (Tokyo-Yokohama) district "on a nuisance night raid mission" while the bombardment was in progress.)

The bombardment followed only a few hours a 1,500 carrier plane attack on the Tokyo region, extending northeast to Hitachi, by aircraft launched from the world's most powerful naval force, the combined United States Third Pacific and British Pacific Fleets.

The great battle line, including some of the most devastating battleships of both the American and British navies, stood off the Eastern Honshu coast in a rainy, misty night, steadily throwing their 1,700-pound, sixteen-inch shells into Hitachi's highly concentrated aircraft, electrical and diesel engine plants and copper smelters.

Correspondents watching the thrilling show from aboard Adm. William F. Halsey, Jr.'s warships reported that dreadnaughts closed to within about six miles of shore.

No Opposition Offered

The Japanese offered no opposition. The attack was begun about midnight Tuesday, Japanese time (11 a. m. Tuesday Eastern Standard Time) and continued two hours.

Overhead, British and American carrier planes flew a protective escort but their defensive cover proved unnecessary. The Japanese still declined to attack the world's most powerful naval force by sea or air, presumably hoarding their aircraft for the invasion they know can no longer be off.

Low thick clouds prevented aerial observers from immediately estimating damage of the attack. Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said in a communique announcing the bombardment. The admiral in a broadcast to the United States yesterday, termed this bombing and bombardment phase the "preinvasion stage" of the Pacific War.

Carrier Planes Sweep Tokyo

The bombardment force of battleships and their accompanying cruisers and destroyers started to run in toward Hitachi, late yesterday after the Tokyo area had been swept for more than eight hours by fighter and bomber flights from both United States Carrier Task Force 38 and carriers of the British Pacific Fleet.

Halsey, in overall command of the combined American-British fleet, has not yet reported any results of yesterday's concerted strikes over the Tokyo area.

Thousand-plane United States carrier sweeps on July 16 which carried the Third Fleet's audacious capering up and down nearly half of Japan's eastern coastline, destroyed or damaged 342 Japanese airplanes. Air assaults Saturday and Sunday over Northern Honshu and Kokoaido sank or damaged 374 ships and small craft totalling 156,000 tons.

Miners Will Receive Extra Ration Points

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Coal miners of the nation will be granted extra ration points under a program which the OPA hopes to make effective early next month.

An OPA spokesman said the plan now being perfected was in line with the policy of providing extra meat and other foods for those engaged in hard physical labor.

Such a "differentiated" ration is already in effect for some workers in plants where meals are served. Because of the different setup for miners, it is planned to have additional ration points furnished the individual workers themselves.

The OPA spokesman said a detailed announcement of the program would probably be made in the next few days.

Blows at Japan Sound Momentous Overtone for Big Three Meeting

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press News Analyst

Reason rejects the notion that it may be mere coincidence that the "ultimate challenge" of combined Anglo-American seapower in the Pacific long ago foretold by Prime Minister Churchill is reaching its climax against Japan just as the Big Three are sitting down in conquered Germany for their victory conference. The thundering echoes of that most tremendous air and sea battle in history are clearly audible half around the globe to sound a momentous overtone for the Potsdam deliberations. It could not have happened that way by chance; only careful planning.

It would need no word from Prime Minister Churchill, President Truman or their military advisors staffs in Germany to convince Generalissimo Stalin, of Russia, that with or without direct Russian aid as a belligerent, such massed Allied power in the Pacific cannot be played off against Japan just as to play any other part than that of a neutral benevolently inclined to the Allied cause against Japan, the time and the place for its disclosure is at hand. While the outcome in total Japanese defeat cannot be doubted, the "preinvasion" phase of the battle, the "softening up" process on a heroic scale never before attained.

Beatrice Fairfax Wishes Modern Cinderella Luck

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

"Dear Miss Fairfax:
"I'm 20 years of age and work in my father's delicatessen and grocery store for $5 a week. On this I'm supposed to clothe myself and pay every incidental expense.

"When my mother died from overwork, Father wanted to take me from high school to help in the house and in the store. But one of his customers, a wealthy and influential lady, stood up to him and persuaded him to let me go to school 'til I graduated. Then she paid for my business college training and offered to get me a swell position in the bank where her son was an officer.

"Father told her to mind her own business and not come into the store again. This lady had taken a great deal of interest in me and my deceased mother; she offered me a home but I stayed with Father through fear. Now I'm sorry I didn't keep up with this one true friend. He won't let me have company, especially the boy I'm interested in, and who wants to become engaged to me. Life doesn't seem worth living.

DESPERATE.

Unhappily some people have slave-driving characteristics and believe their utter selfishness is inspired in the interest of the person involved. Like the girl whose letter is given, slave-drivers are not confined to any one class. Her father believes that in underpaying her, it's his privilege, as he's her father and keeping her away from young people, especially the boy who wants to marry her, is only keeping her out of trouble.

He forgets entirely that once he was young and went a-courting. Young people need the companionship of other young people in choosing their mates and that, unless a man or woman is especially endowed with some gift which is better cultivated in celibacy, it is well for the average to marry.

This girl should hunt up her old friend who took such an interest in her and helped her to get an education. I know this lady washed her hands of her in disgust but it's likely she'll take her back again and be a fairy godmother. Here's luck to little Cinderella. This will also answer C. Y. R. who, like my other correspondent, works for her father who underpays her.

A Toast TO AMERICA!

These gentlemen of Japan are drinking to us. They are raising their cups in the hope that Americans will get "tired" carrying on a bitter war thousands of miles from home. The Japanese high command is counting on us to help her hold her stolen empire.

The only way we will upset this Jap strategy is to become acutely aware of certain jolting facts:

Do you know that Japan, the "master-race" of 70,000,000 now controls nearly a half-billion people—nearly a quarter of the world's population?

Do you know that Japan right now has sufficient materials and food to carry on for many years at the present rate of attrition?

Do you know that the Japs are making planes as fast as we can knock them down? One of our returned Navy fliers just recently said he chased a "Judy" (they're not fighting the old type Zeros any more!) for forty miles... and the Jap simply pulled away from one of our fastest planes!

Do you realize that it's 14,000 miles from France to Tokyo... that we can't wait for the leftover arms from Europe to beat Japan... that the Jap Military is counting on this very barrier of distance to cool our ardor for war?

Do you realize that we have never taken one of her stolen islands without having to account for every last man on it—that our first two years of fighting yielded tens of thousands dead Japs but only a few thousand prisoners?

These are cold facts. Let's look at them coldly, honestly.

If we haven't enough ships, we must build them. But a citizenry complacent in the idea that one of the world's strongest empires is a pushover doesn't build them fast enough.

If we haven't enough guns, planes and tanks, we must make them. But that means staying on our war jobs until our war jobs are finished.

The question is not "Can we beat Japan?" It's "When?" "How?" And at what cost in lives?

The answer is up to every last one of us.

It will end as soon as 130,000,000 Americans and their allies, fighting and working together, make it end.

Now you can help

- 1 Keep that war job!
- 2 Keep buying Bonds!
- 3 Keep doing all your country asks!

LISTEN WORLD!

—By Elsie Robinson

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

Mr. Smith is surprised. Not to say flabbergasted. Being both wise and important, Mr. Smith has spent most of his 60 years analyzing our social system. Recently he decided to make a survey of the Modern Working Woman—particularly those ladies who are now manning our defense projects. Whereupon he made many startling discoveries and would like to pass them on. Which is jake with me, professor, but if you hear a few giggles or even violent guffaws in reply, don't blame Us Gals. First of all our analyzer is amazed to find how many Modern Women are not only willing but eager to leave home and take a job. One can understand such an attitude in a restless, impoverished young girl, says he, or in a feminine careerist. But surely older, married ladies with ample means must still cherish the beauty of a serene home environment and shrink from public positions.

But despite Mr. Smith's coaxing little ways, they don't and they won't!

"Mind you," he deplores, "I fully realize that the world has changed greatly since my own youth and I have kept an open mind about it all. Naturally, I am familiar with women who work from necessity. But I am astounded by this enormous host of free wives and mothers who are taking over exclusively men's jobs and glorying in the fact."

"One sees them swinging down the street in their slacks, chatting excitedly, having parked their children for the day, and one can only wonder—where will they go from here? What will happen to their homes and babies? How about their men, deprived of the comforts of home or returning from war to find women holding the old jobs and refusing to give them up? To say the least, it seems unfeeling, if not downright vulgar, for women to have abandoned all the old ideals like this!"

They aren't abandoning their old ideals, friend Smith. They are just beginning to put them into practice. There is nothing new about the restless woman at any age. Women have always been the restless, adventuresome sex. And I suspect that if they had not prodded their men along we'd still be walking in cow trails. Women never wished to "stay cooped up at home" any more than men did. They wanted to be "up and attem!" But babies, conventions and some grouchy male bound them down.

You claim women are taking your jobs. That's right—but remember you grabbed theirs first. For over fifty years men have been taking the baking, washing, cleaning, sewing and cooking jobs from the women and turning them into Big Business. And incidentally shrinking a ten-room farm house into a three-room apartment.

So now we're out on our own and I suspect we'll stay. I admit we're wishing some tough problems on ourselves, the problem of the neglected child, the overworked woman, the sulky male, the desperate need for factory nursing managed by experts, the equally great need for quiet and beauty in our lives. But these problems were inevitable. They would have come even if there had been no war. So what can you do about it? You can take it in your stride or let it take you for a ride, as humans have always done with every great step ahead. For there's nothing new in social revolution.

s to War Aims

the Pacific

A LETTER comes from the Rev. Dr. M. Bittlinger, pastor of the church of the Brethren at Westernport, asking publication of a statement issued by seventy of "the leading ministers and educators of America" regarding our war aims in the Pacific.

Space limitations will not allow publication of the statement along with its signatories, but effort will be made to give the gist of it. After the destruction of Japanese cities by American air raids, it says, "the bombing and burning of 'defenseless women and children' can be so effective in military terms as to justify itself in terms of humanity, and that, however far military leaders may carry their policy of destruction, 'they know that the 75,000,000 people of Japan are not being annihilated.'"

"The current campaign of organized hatred," it says further, "involving the denunciation of the Japanese people as bestial and depraved is the denial of the vine spirit in man, and of the otherhood of man. Out of our deepest convictions rises the assurance that the Japanese are not all devilish evil; that there are millions of men and women of good will in Japan, misled, perhaps, but still the good life for all; men and women who are necessary foundation stones in the structure of a new world. Such a peace cannot be built on mutual distrust, on fear and hatred."

What to do? "The only sound alternative to this policy of hatred and destruction is to offer to the Japanese the same rights and freedoms as we offer to the American people. This is the only clear and immediate formulation of our government's objectives, a statement of our government of the conditions of surrender, and an effort to stop the campaign of vilification which, great as may be the contribution to our war effort, has gone beyond all bounds of reason and human understanding."

For one thing, this newspaper believes the terms of surrender, which President Truman has defined as meaning the unconditional surrender of the Japanese military machine, have been amply stated. One thinks there should be some recognition regarding the Japanese religion, which, as Mark Sullivan has pointed out, is so definitely integrated with emperor worship that some statement on that score might have an important bearing in bringing the Japanese to their senses. Even the Japanese have suggested that surrender might be discussed if the institution of the emperor is left untouched.

But it is behind the emperor that the ruling class, which is the military class, has developed. To leave the emperor clothed with all his authority and prestige would be to save the present leaders of Japan in positions of power.

The statement offered, which carries no date and perhaps may be somewhat behind time, says nothing of that angle and it would be more in the line of a scrap metal gain.

The Japs we hear, are suffering from a shortage of almost everything but ghost towns. They are on the increase, however, thanks to the B-29s.

Denmark, instead of asking for food plans to ship any surplus to other countries. This is highly irregular behavior for a European country.

be strengthened. But if this government persists in lowering them to every weekday morning, except holidays, at 1 and 9 South Main street, Cumberland, Maryland, then we shall have added trouble with the competition for postwar jobs we are sure to face with the abandonment of war production.

It is commendable and proper for us to help the unfortunate of war-stricken lands, but we would do that much better by helping them to help themselves in their home lands.

Workers Are Involved In Speeding Victory

THE HOPE is growing among war leaders that the end of 1945 may bring victory in the Pacific, which would mean that great numbers of American lives would be spared. Undoubtedly, events are proceeding swiftly toward a climax. Innumerable evidences point to momentous developments during the summer months.

Most significant is the growing fear in Japan, as manifested in the frantic preparations for invasion of the home islands.

Undeniably, strategic bombing of Japan is proving even more devastating than that of Germany, which was an infinitely larger and more difficult target. There is adequate reason why the Japanese should be terrified, now that Okinawa, only 325 air miles distant, is securely in American possession, and their industrial resources are being whittled away by the daily visitation of the bombers, with great loads of fire and explosives.

It is possible that Japan can be left prostrate this year and that the lives of many thousands of young Americans can be saved, but only if a maximum of power is brought to the conflict.

This essential of swift victory at small cost cannot be achieved when workers decide for one reason or another to quit their jobs, when 16,000 men in one rubber plant remain idle for weeks, with a resultant loss of hundreds of thousands of tires, preventing thousands of planes from being shipped to the Pacific.

The Move To Oust Senator Glass

DOUBTLESS there are many heartburning over in Virginia, as well as elsewhere, over the reported move to have the seat of Senator Carter Glass declared vacant. That is because of the great esteem in which this venerable statesman is held generally. But it is not at all clear how John L. Green, the Arlington, Va., county treasurer, is going to get anywhere with his outer attempt by applying to his state supreme court.

Green says he will ask the Virginia supreme court to declare the seat vacant and to call a special election to name a successor because Senator Glass has long been ill and unable personally to answer a roll call in the Senate since June 20, 1942, thus depriving the state of its share of representation.

There are two hitches about this move. One is the fact that the senator, while personally absent, has been represented in voting by proxy. The other is that the Senate itself is the body to decide whether the senator is disqualified by reason of physical incapacity, as the federal constitution provides that "each house shall be the judge of the qualifications of its own members."

That would seem to put the initiative up to the senator's equally esteemed colleague, Senator Byrd, and no one can imagine his doing anything of the kind.

There is the possibility, of course, that by the time new automobiles are available and all the old ones have been traded in, Japan will be in the market for scrap metal again.

Maybe the reason that German guns which could shoot at right angles did not shoot at the base Fritz was aiming around the wrong corner.

STRANGE ME

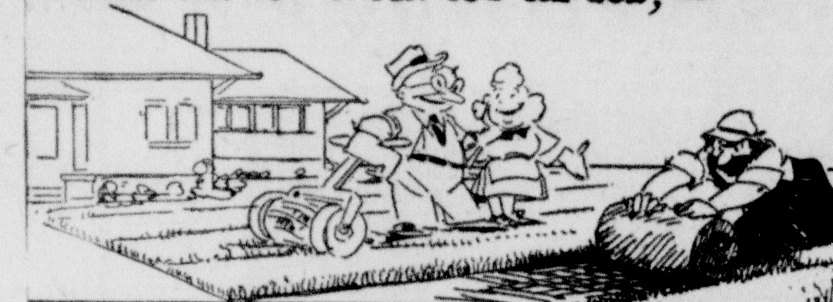

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

I know that anyone who knows me sees in me many strange things—things that remind them perhaps of themselves. Certainly I am reminded of many of the strange traits of myself in others. We are akin—one blood, in the largest sense.

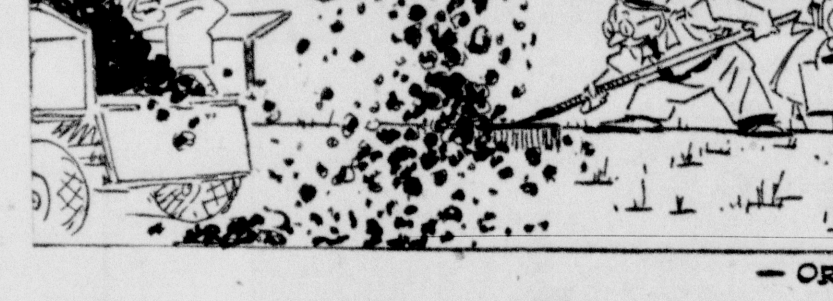

For this very reason we should be able to get along together happily, with the least possible friction and misunderstanding. It is unfortunate that we are so separated by so many creeds, races and ideologies. Tragical and cruel as this terrible war has been, it has done one thing I believe, it has knit the human race closer together as human beings, striving for freedom and justice.

Inside Story of Corner in Rye Will Be A Juicy Revelation, Drew Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The congressional nullification over attempts to corner the American rye market has only scratched the surface.

If Congress should ever dig deep enough, it will unearth one of the juiciest stories of riding the grain market the country has heard for a long time, including some of President Truman's close supporters, chiefly Ed Pauley, former treasurer of the Democratic National Committee.

Other Democrats active in rye were Senator "Pappy" O'Daniel, of Texas; Senator "Happy" Chandler of Kentucky; Attorney General Biddle; Kenney, of California, and Senator Scott Lucas, of Illinois.

Senator Lucas was chiefly engaged in trying to lift transportation restrictions so the Chicago boys could unload their tremendous quantities of rye. Chandler and Kenny were let in on the deal through their friend, Ed Pauley. Their profits were relatively small, Chandler making less than $100.

They were stowaways compared with the really big operators, General Foods, owned in part by Mrs. Joe Davies, wife of Roosevelt's former ambassador to Belgium and to Russia. General Foods, after buying eighty-nine per cent of the deliverable supply of rye and being stuck with it, then performed a beautiful salesmanship job in persuading the Belgian government to take a million bushels off its hands—paid for by U. S. taxpayers through Lend-Lease.

The department of Agriculture has now ordered a hearing on the earlier rye gyrations of General Foods. However, no hearing has yet been ordered on more recent developments, including the operations of Democratic Bigwig Ed Pauley and the glamorous salesmanship by which a million bushels of rye were unloaded on the Belgians.

One other interesting point is why the War Production Board ordered distillers to use ten per cent rye in making grain alcohol. Obviously this helped the General Foods boys get rid of their vast rye hoard.

No Ceiling on Rye

The story begins in the winter of 1942, when ceiling prices were put on all grains except rye. Official explanation for this exception was that rye was below parity—around fifty-two cents a bushel—and the ceiling price was left off for the benefit of the farmer who deserved to get parity, which is over a dollar a bushel.

However, this left rye sticking

Delivery Union Is A Feudal Affair, Pettengill Says

By SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL

Seventeen hundred members of a delivery union have prevented 13,000,000 readers of fourteen New York newspapers from reading the news of the world unless they walked to the newspaper offices to buy a copy.

This union has struck thirteen times in the past two and a half years—war years. They have refused to comply with the processes of law for the settlement of their strikes.

This union has not only a closed shop, but is a closed union. The son of a deceased member may join. No one else has the right to do so. This is done so as to hog the jobs from other workers and compel the union members to be constantly paid overtime with time and a half. With the right to work passing down from father to son, we see re-established the law of entail, primogeniture and other feudal trappings which we thought were gone from America forever. This union has become a new aristocracy of First Families of New York. A New House of Lords.

Famous Quotation

Years ago a railroad president said: "The public be damned. How the workers howled then—and justly."

Among these 13,000,000 readers were thousands of fathers and mothers waiting anxiously for news from the battlefronts. Unless they walked they could not get the news. The public be damned and the fathers and mothers of soldiers be damned. All but the readers of the Communist press, the Daily Worker and P. M. whose papers were delivered.

So the sidewalks of New York were blocked with long lines of men and women trucking to the newspaper offices to buy the news of the world. On a Sunday 100,000 men and women walked to a single newspaper office to get the news. Shoe leather worn off 200,000 feet, time away from family and children—all because a handful of men refuse in time of war to truck papers to the news stands or to the post-office.

Red-headed Boy Quits

Up to the time of writing, these "Lords of the Press" have graciously permitted United States citizens to buy a single copy of a newspaper where it is printed. But he must not sell papers on the streets! Opposite the entrance to the "News," I saw a red-headed boy who had somehow, by the exercise of American initiative, gotten hold of several copies and was offering them for sale. A big policeman put his arm around him and whispered in his ear. The little boy disappeared. Evidently the officer told him he was in danger, that this is no longer a free country where a boy can earn an honest penny doing a useful service.

I wondered about this little chap. Wondered whether, perhaps, his father had died on bloody ground that men and children might be free on the sidewalks of New York. No doubt the strikers have some right on their side. It is seldom that they do not. But, didn't this little red head have some rights, too? Even if he was not the son of a member of a closed union? Wasn't he entitled to the protection of the police as he hollered "Paper?" Or did the strikers have a monopoly on rights as well as jobs?

Part of Free Press

Just what does this ancient right of a free press mean, anyhow? It is the right to print and the right to read. But, neither the right to print nor the right to read means anything unless printer and reader are brought together. That was what the little red head was trying to do. He was part of the free press the constitution talks about—a necessary part, he said. He said he was a part of America, too, the old America of get-up and elbow grease and boys learning the value of a penny and a dime and a dollar on rung one of the ladder of life.

But, the red head had the wrong father. He hadn't been born into the First Families of New York. He was a part of America, too, the old America of get-up and elbow grease and boys learning the value of a penny and a dime and a dollar on rung one of the ladder of life.

Invasion Planned

An invasion, of course, is being planned. That much has been forecast by our own military leaders. It may be taken for granted that not at fault. For many years the newspapers of our imperial city had recognized the closed shop of the delivery union. And with the recent years our government at Washington had given its seal of approval, too.

So what was the policeman and the little red head to do?

Lawrence Believes Pacific War Has Been Cut a Year

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, July 17. — The epoch-making assault on the mainland of Japan by the United States Navy makes it possible to revise all estimates as to the duration of the war.

This correspondent was told by competent military men shortly after V-E day that it was reasonable to expect victory over Japan not later than the ending of the year 1947.

Now, however, information is available as to the resistance that can be offered by the Japanese to our fleet bombardment and it may be assumed that the outer limit of the time for victory against Japan may be reduced to the end of 1946.

To put it another way, the Japanese surrender may come suddenly in the next six months, but if it does not, then defeat is certain to be inflicted so that organized resistance on the mainland of Japan will be crushed before the end of 1946.

Fleet Raid Significant

Considerable optimism prevails here as a consequence of the bold raid of the American naval fleet on the largest island in the northern segment of the Japanese archipelago. The fact that no shore batteries resisted may mean either that there were none constructed there or that ammunition is at a premium. Also Japanese defenses may be weak because of the already depleted supply of artillery.

It may well be that the strength of the Japanese has been overestimated and that observers have underestimated the powerful blows inflicted by the B-29s and the naval air bombing from our carrier task forces.

Naturally military men cannot build plans on mere guesses as to what Japan's strength really is. The American concept has been to bring to bear a maximum effort on concentrated areas so as to make sure that the objectives are attained. The Philippines where more than enough troops were landed so as to make assurance doubly sure.

Since the American carrier task forces can roam up and down the Japanese coast at will and supplement what the B-29s are doing, the combined effort of our army and navy in the next six months should be such as to pulverize much of Japanese industry and her communications.

Russian Might Play a Part

In the climax of the whole situation for observers familiar with the terrain say the Siberian armies could be most effective when the ground is frozen. Whether or not Russia means to enter the war is a well-guarded secret. Presumably Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill and President Truman can have some off-the-record talks about it in Berlin and the rest of the world would not be any wiser. It is significant, however, that the Japanese propagandists over the radio are more and more anti-Russian in their comments, which is somewhat of a change from the recent occasions when they displayed the utmost friendliness toward Russia.

Whatever Russia's intentions are, her policy is playing a part already because she is keeping many divisions on the borders of Manchuria and thus tying up a large number of Japanese troops.

If the American naval bombardments continue and the bombing by army air crews—which is expected to be launched in progressively more powerful units right along from now on—should demoralize communications in Japan, the time for the invasion might conceivably be moved up.

Invasion Planned

An invasion, of course, is being planned. That much has been forecast by our own military leaders. It may be taken for granted that several months after V-E day must elapse before our huge armies can be brought to the Pacific. But with the bombers operating from the numerous airfields available from Okinawa and from the Marianas plus the strength of our fleet, Japan will have in the next ninety days a real taste of the destructive power which can be loosed against her before the invasion is ready.

Men high up in our armed services who know the Far Eastern situation and the habits of thinking of the Japanese are predicting that the Japanese leaders will not take the beating but will surrender before Christmas. If, on the other hand, invasion is necessary to assure surrender, it certainly is not going to be delayed very long into 1946 now that our fleet has left out the Japanese defenses.

Paris, France—Paris—in spite of what the doctor said about watching my blood pressure. It's easy to find where I'm staying here in Paris. You just go down Rue de la Grand Armee past four gendarmes and turn left at the third "Oo, la, la."

This is the first time I've been in Paris since '39 when Chamberlain made that speech warning Americans to get home because Hitler was feeling his spinach. I left in such a hurry I forgot to pay my hotel bill. I wonder if they still have my trunk.

I've been busy trying to think up a couple of non-fraternizing gags, because that's what really hits the kids over here.

Things in Paris are fine. Of course, most of them are out with American soldiers. But I won't give up after getting that hundred pounds of sen-sen through customs. The Frenchmen here all wear berets. A beret—that's a snood that got up in the world. And you should see the way these French girls pile their hair up as high as ten inches on their heads. I've been watching them swing and sway on the Champs Elysees.

I ran into Corporal Mickey Rooney and Bobby Breen on the street. Mickey was standing up in a jeep yelling at the natives. Of course, Mickey has to stand up in a jeep. It's the only way he can see over the side. Mickey was really living. He'd just heard he'd become a father of a seven-pound firecracker boy. Imagine Andy Hardy having an Andy Hardy! Bobby Breen is 19 now and wears three campaign ribbons. He's turned into quite a pin-up boy.

FILM JOB FOR HIM?

ERIC JOHNSTON, above, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is reported in line for a big job in the film industry. Johnston, admitted in Hollywood that he had been offered the job of president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association, now held by Will Hays. Johnston said he doesn't want that job.

Representative Ellis And the Immigrants

REPRESENTATIVE Hubert Ellis of the neighboring state of West Virginia, is fearful of the impact of immigration on our postwar economy and has told the House that Congress should take steps to halt immigration for five or ten years, or at least for a long enough period for us "to take stock of ourselves."

He charges that the federal government is planning to "way" for all the unhappy pols of the world.

He did not attribute that "belonging" party in their efficient reason for us permanent asylum.

As a member of the Immigration Committee, claimed "situation is now developed to make it easy for the thousands of war refugees and other persons domiciled in this country to become citizens or have permanent residence."

He added that a "propaganda campaign is now in progress to permit the 1,000 refugees at a camp near Oswego, N. Y., to remain in this country. This is the group admitted by the late President Roosevelt with a promise they would be returned to their homeland upon the termination of the war."

Perhaps the West Virginia representative is a bit too extreme with his proposal considering that the immigration quotas are already relatively low, but he is certainly right with respect to any expansion of those quotas. This is because there is no doubt that a large influx of foreigners would only intensify the postwar economic problems that we shall have even with our present population.

The immigration bars are sufficiently protective, they should be kept so and if not they should

Wheeling, W. Va., Man Is Chosen To Succeed Dr. Robert S. Barrett

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has elected Wade H. Kepner, business and civic leader of Wheeling, W. Va., grand exalted ruler of the order, to succeed Dr. Robert S. Barrett, Alexandria, Va., as the head of the 700,000 members of the organization in the United States and territorial possessions, Harry I. Stegmaler, exalted ruler of Cumberland Lodge, No. 63, was advised yesterday.

Complying with wartime restrictions on travel, the Elks this year cancelled their regularly scheduled eighty-first national convention which was to have taken place at this time in New York and Mr. Kepner was therefore elected by a special meeting attended by a smaller representative group of Elks Grand Lodge members and officials.

He is the first member from West Virginia to attain the rank of grand exalted ruler, highest office in the fraternity.

Born in Wheeling July 11, 1902, Mr. Kepner in 1923 was graduated from Dartmouth college, and on September 22 of the following year he married Miss Martha Noy. They have three children, Helen, Betty and John.

The new grand exalted ruler of the Elks is vice-president of the Security Trust Company of Wheeling. He also owns three rural homes there and is a past president of the National Selected Morticians and of the West Virginia Funeral Directors Association.

He maintains an active supervision in the management of his 800 acre stock and dairy farm in Orangeville, Ohio, and also operates a retail milk business in Sharons, Pa.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Ohio Valley Industries Corporation, is a member of the board of directors of the Ohio Valley Board of Trade, and formerly served on the executive committee of the Nacomo Corporation, Chicago.

Mr. Kepner has always displayed an active interest in civic affairs. He is a former commissioner of the Wheeling Fire department, a former commissioner of playgrounds and public recreation in that city, and a past president of the Wheeling Kiwanis Club.

Other organizational activities include his being director of the Wheeling YMCA and vice-president of the city's Automobile Club.

Mr. Kepner has devoted much of his time to the Order of Elks, having become a member of Wheeling Lodge No. 28 in 1924. He rose to exalted ruler of that lodge in 1930 after serving as a member of the degree team, lecturing knight, loyal knight and leading knight. He was a member of the board of trustees of Wheeling Lodge for 10 years. He is a past president of the Elks Club Corporation, and has served on a number of important Elks committees, both local and national.

Since February, 1940, he has been a member of the Board of Grand Trustees, having been appointed at Included among the many points of interest on the tour were the cities of Worms, Heidelberg, Mannheim and Saarbrücken.

New York Newspaper Distribution Resumed

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—News-starved New Yorkers grabbed their favorite newspapers today and—as a strike of delivery workers ended—got them for the first time since June 30.

Distribution was nearly normal a few hours after the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers union voted to return to work.

"Papers!" people exclaimed as newsstands filled and quickly were emptied. Circulation had been limited to over-the-counter sales at newspaper plants during the strike, yet reached about one-fifth of the 5,600,000 daily normal average.

Kilgore Offers Bill To Extend Idle Benefits

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Many employees not now protected by unemployment compensation laws would be brought within their coverage under a bill offered today by Sen. Kilgore (D-W. Va.).

Further, the bill would supplement state unemployment funds with federal money to bring payments to the jobless up to a maximum of $25 a week. It would extend the time of payments up to twenty-six weeks a year.

Kilgore said he was backed by five Senate co-sponsors: Murray (D-Mont.), Guffey (D-Pa.), Wagner (D-N.Y.), Thomas (D-Utah), and Pepper (D-Fla.) AFL President William Green endorsed the measure in a statement.

The bill, which its backers described as an attempt to carry out President Truman's plea for unemployment benefits to "serve as a bulwark against postwar deflation," would:

Increase veterans unemployment benefits from a flat $20 a week to $25 for single persons and $30 for those with dependents. Veterans would need only ninety days military service to qualify for a maximum of fifty-two weeks payment. Under present law they would have to show nine and a half months service to get the maximum.

Provide for the government to pay travel allowances to workers referred to new jobs in another city by the United States Employment Service.

Extend benefits to federal workers, maritime workers, agricultural processing workers and those employed in small firms not now covered by state laws.

Apply the federal unemployment tax to employers of one or more, instead of eight or more, as is now the law.

The bill is somewhat similar to one which Kilgore worked for unsuccessfully in the spring of 1944.

He is the husband of Mrs. Margaret Bittner, Fifth street, and is the father of one son.

Rupperts File Answer In Property Dispute

James H. and Viola Ruppert, respondents in the case brought by Raymond R. Dreyer who has petitioned for a deed on the property located at 342 Davidson street, yesterday filed an answer at the clerk of court's office in which Viola Ruppert denied she had ever affirmed any agreement regarding the sale of the residence.

Dreyer, represented by W. William Gilchrist, charges that Ruppert, representing himself as the sole owner of the property, agreed in writing to sell the property for $2,000 with a down payment of $50 and the remainder at $25 a month. He petitioned the court for a writ of subpoena asking that the respondents be compelled to deliver the deed.

In the answer filed by D. Lindley Sloan and F. Brooke Whiting, Rupperts deny that he represented himself as the sole owner of the premises and alleges that monthly payments were not made on time with defaults now amounting to $100 and that the 1944 taxes on the property have not been paid per agreement.

Viola Ruppert denied that she had affirmed any agreement and did not sign one. She stated that she had received payments from the property spoken of as rent.

It was M. Sgt. Watkins' suggestion of a method for simplifying the location of pilings for the bridge piers, which enabled the group to set the record. In recognition of it he has been recommended for the Bronze Star.

Wright Aeronautical Engineering Manager Dies In Hotel Plunge

CHICAGO, July 17 (AP)—Arthur J. Sikora, 39, engineering manager of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation at Cincinnati, plunged to death from a Loop hotel window today and company officials said his death appeared to have occurred accidentally.

At first, Varley Young, head of the company's public relations department, expressed suspicion in Cincinnati that Sikora might have been "murdered at the hands of enemy agents." However, officials of Curtiss Wright Corporation, the parent concern, said in New York further evidence revealed "no evidence" to support this theory.

Young later agreed that the conclusion of accidental death was "the answer."

Sikora plummeted fourteen stories from his room in the Palmer House early today. Police found his pajama body on the roof of a sixth floor court after a hotel guest telephoned that "a man just fell past my window."

Senate Republicans Split on World Bank

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Senate Republicans split wide over the Bretton Woods world bank fund today, one group wanting to have it do as it pleased and another backing it as a benefit to the United States and the world.

The plan calls for a $9,100,000,000 international bank to make or guarantee loans for rehabilitation and economic development, and an $8,800,000,000 fund to stabilize currencies.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), resuming his all-out fight against the legislation on the Senate floor, summed up his arguments:

1—That the dollar is "the only stable" currency and before long all American dollars subscribed to the fund will be grabbed up and there will be a scarcity.

2—That the United States will be forced "into the moral obligation of lending more and more money abroad."

Sen. Hart (R-Conn), former admiral, joined Taft's forces. He said he was favoring the United Nations Charter but as for Bretton Woods, the probable gains would be "badly overbalanced by the risks involved."

Safer Timbering Is Urged at Mine

A federal reinspection report on the 1,041 ton-a-day Manor No. 3 mine of the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company at Vindex, Garrett county, yesterday recommended safer timbering and haulage operations, the Bureau of Mines said.

Safety improvements effected since the prior safety survey also are enumerated. There were 225 employees at the time of the examination.

To help prevent injuries from timbering and haulage, T. J. McDonald, federal coal mine inspector who visited the operation several weeks ago, recommended posting of printed timbering-system plans, removal or support of loose roof, frequent roof tests by the vibration method, use of special post-removing tools, adequate clearance along haulage tracks in working places, elimination of stumbling hazards, use of snug-fitting clothes by haulage men, a drag for empty trips approaching the portal and permissible trip lights for all trips, some devices for locomotives, and blocking of all standing cars.

McDonald noted a number of safety improvements, including adequate length of blasting cables, well made splices in trailing cables, some guards for carpenter shop machinery, satisfactory storage of explosives and detonators in working places, good condition of underground tools, and posting of the mine map.

Among other recommendations were safer blasting practices, improved ventilation, better coal dust control, some electrical and mechanical safeguards, a "no smoking" rule, adequate fire protection, wearing of safety shoes by all employees and goggles by certain workmen, and a broad safety program.

Both nominations were submitted only yesterday by Mr. Truman. Quick confirmation for Snyder also is indicated.

Stalin met President Truman for the first time at noon in an hour-long conference at the "Little White House" and shared a simple, mid-western style luncheon with him.

Stalin, whose absence yesterday caused a postponement of the opening, arrived in Berlin Monday afternoon with Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov, it was learned.

Civilian Version Of Jeep Is Rolling Off Assembly Lines

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 17 (AP)—Another postwar automobile—the Willys-Overland civilian version of the famed military jeep—is rolling off assembly lines here.

Without interruption to its output of the army vehicle, Willys-Overland has begun production on a schedule calling for approximately 20,000 of the peacetime units during the remainder of 1945.

The civilian version was described by company officials as combining successfully for the first time the basic functions of the tractor, light truck, mobile power unit and passenger conveyance.

Still to be determined is the retail price of the civilian jeep.

Army Rail Travel Will Be Restricted

BALTIMORE, July 17 (AP)—Rigorous restrictions of army rail travel in the Third service command area comprising Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia, were announced today by Brig. Gen. T. B. Catron, acting commander.

No prisoners of war, officers or enlisted men may travel within the command area in anything but designated coaches, regardless of the distance they explained. "The purpose of the travel restrictions," he said, was to expedite the redeployment of troops from Europe to the Pacific and leave available to returned overseas personnel on furlough the utmost transportation possible.

Wounded Veteran Loses His Wallet And Army Papers

Sgt. Albert Nutter Was Injured Four Times but Is Now Recovering

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., July 17—M-Sgt. Albert Nutter of the Green Mountain community, Route 4, Keyser, had the misfortune to lose his wallet containing approximately $200 in cash, all of his military and identification cards and a highly prized address book containing the names of many persons with whom he visited while in Germany.

Sgt. Nutter who is home on furlough awaiting deployment served about two years. He wears the Purple Heart and three Oak Leaf clusters. Hard luck seemed to be his lot, though wounded four times yet in each case his recovery was practically complete. His last wound was perhaps the worst; while paratrooping he was hit, the missile striking the lower part of the face and passing out the top of his head. Landing in enemy territory, he was given first aid by a German surgeon at a station closely pushed by the advancing Americans. All prisoners except those thought to be mortally wounded were removed. Nutter was left behind; and under treatment by the American medics he recovered.

He is the only survivor of the ill-fated army plane that crashed at LaGuardia field in which, of the crew of ten, seven were killed outright and two died from injuries.

Woodmen Practice True Democracy

Appreciation for the Victory our fighting men have won in Europe, and praise for their courage and sacrifices that are bringing final Victory in the Pacific, marked America's observance this month of the 169th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Until that final Victory, the Woodmen Society and its hundreds of thousands of members will continue to buy War Bonds and support every war activity. The Society now owns more than 25 million dollars of bonds. Its local Camps and members have invested many more millions to help speed the Victory. They also generously support all home front war activities.

Nothing less in support of our fighting men who are defending Freedom and Democracy is to be expected of Woodmen, for Fraternalism and Democracy are one. In their devotion to Fraternalism, they practice the highest form of true Democracy. At Woodmen meetings, members face the American Flag hanging above every Consul Commander's station to renew their pledge of allegiance.

Fulfill Duties of Citizenship

Woodmen's "Fraternity in Action" program not only emphasizes fraternal activities for the welfare and happiness of members and their families, but also calls for the sponsorship of many civic and patriotic projects as an obligation of good citizenship.

This is the kind of Fraternal Society to which you can be proud to belong. If you are a white male of good character, aged from birth to 60 years, the Woodmen Society welcomes you. There is a type of Woodmen life insurance certificate that exactly meets your need. Ask the Woodmen representative in your community today for full details.

Survey Shows Majority of Public Favors Postwar Military Draft

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 17.—The widely-publicized committee hearings in Washington on the post-war military training bill have apparently brought little change in public attitudes toward the measure. Questioning of people from coast to coast during the past ten days shows that more than two-thirds favor requiring able-bodied young men to take a year's military or naval training in peacetime.

More than 200 reporters for the Institute went out to question men and women of all ages in all types of communities, the total group representing a true cross-section of the adult civilian population. To each person this question was put:

"After this war is over, do you think every able-bodied young man should be required to take military or naval training for one year?"

Similar tests of sentiment on this principle have been made at intervals since 1943. More than 15,000 people have been questioned in these tests. The results follow:

	Yes	No	Undec.
Nov., 1943.....	63%	29%	8%
Sept., 1944.....	63	23	14
Dec., 1944.....	70	25	5
Feb., 1945.....	69	22	9
May, 1945.....	70	24	6
TODAY.....	69	24	7

The effect which the war has had on opinion is shown by comparing today's result with the vote in 1939. At that time only thirty-seven per cent approved the idea of one year's military training for able-bodied young men aged 20.

In the course of its many recent polls on the issue, the Institute has accumulated a mass of evidence indicating why Americans favor peacetime military training, or oppose it, as the case may be. Of thousands of individual comments and remarks, the following are most typical and constitute the leading reasons for opinions expressed pro and con.

(1) "So we won't get caught unprepared for war as we were this time." (2) "Military training gives discipline to the boys—teaches them respect and broadens their outlook and education." (3) "It makes for better physical fitness, more healthy American manhood." (4) "It would make for a country too military, too much like Hitler Germany instead of a democracy." (5) "It won't stop wars; it will only encourage another war." (6) "It would be better to keep a standing army instead, with increased pay to attract the young men."

One outstanding fact found by public opinion reporters in their questioning is the remarkable uniformity of opinion by sex and by age on the military training issue. This is shown in the current survey as follows:

	Yes	No	Undec.
Men.....	68%	25%	7%
Women.....	70	23	7
Age 21-29.....	72	22	6
30-49.....	69	24	7
50 and over.....	68	25	7

Service men in uniform were not included in the polling, since military regulations do not permit civilian poll-takers to question them. Families of men in the service were however included in the poll cross-section. Their vote was seventy-one per cent in favor of post-war military training, as compared to sixty-eight per cent among persons with no close kin in the service.

—Among the many important products developed for military use during the war is a shatterproof marine instrument panel, made by coating a fibreglass fabric with a coal-derived plastic.

We miss you dear father,
When we are all alone,
We miss your pleasant smile,
We miss your little visits
When you'd linger for awhile.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hill was hard to climb,
He gently closed your poor tired eyes
And whispered "Peace be Thine."

We did not know the pain you had,
We did not see you die;
We only knew you were away
And could not say goodbye.

We often sit and think of you
When we are all alone,
And of the happy days gone by,
When we were all at home.

Loving and kind, dear Father, in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind;
Beautiful memories be left behind.

Sadly missed by his Children,

Boards Should Be Notified by Men Before Changing To Another Job

Officials Here Say Some in Classes 2A and 2B Have Misinterpreted Their Positions

Evidence that some registrants in Classes 2-A and 2-B (including all deferred men up to 38) have misinterpreted their position on voluntarily waiving out of their present jobs yesterday resulted in a statement from Allegany county draft boards that it was hoped would clarify the situation.

Briefly, no man classified in either 2-A or 2-B may voluntarily quit his job or leave his first conscription local draft board regarding his intended move.

Should Consult Draft Board
Failure to consult his draft board before quitting one job to take another results in the man's immediate reclassification to 1-A, draft board officials said.

In the past, men in both classifications have left jobs, been reclassified in 1-A and then were very surprised when they were called up for induction. In some cases, the change in jobs of these men would have been approved by the draft board providing the man had consulted the board before making the change.

Draft board officials yesterday quoted Memorandum 115-1 which states:

"The War Manpower Commission has in effect regulations and procedures for determining when it is in the best interest of the war effort for a worker to leave his employment for other work and for directing war workers to the most urgent war work."

This means that any Allegany county man in either 2A or 2B desiring to make a change in employment must first make a written request to his local board for a determination as to whether it is to the best interest for him to leave his present job.

Board Will Make Ruling
Taking a hypothetical case, local draft board officials said, "suppose Joe Jones, 24, who is working as a shoe clerk gets offered a better job at a ballistics plant. In all probability, the board would approve such a move for the ballistics plant would be considered more essential to the war than the shoe store. But if Bill Smith, who is employed at the ballistics plant, should want to quit and take a job in a grocery store he would be refused permission to make the move as he would be considered more essential to his present position."

But in either case both Joe Jones and Bill Smith must make a written request to their draft boards and must abide by the board's determination. Failure to do this results in immediate reclassification.

When proposed changes in employment are approved, workers in 2A or 2B are given referred cards by the War Manpower Commission which authorize the change. Changes in employment cannot be made without such cards.

All deferred men up to 38 come under these provisions the draft board officers said with the exception of discharged veterans.

Court Is Petitioned To Appoint Trustee To Sell Property

A petition asking the court to appoint a trustee to sell a property at Henderson avenue in the settlement of an estate was filed yesterday in the clerk of court's office by Elizabeth Creagan represented by Edward J. Ryan.

John Miller, Mary Miller, Marie Miller, of the Ursuline Order of Sisters, Anthony Miller and Maria Miller were named as respondents in the petition.

The petition states that A. W. Miller died intestate April 8, 1901 and at his death the complainant was owner of a one-third interest in the Henderson avenue property. The remaining two-thirds was owned by Margaret Wagner who conveyed her interest to the complainant, by deed, in 1944.

Police Take Amnesia Victim Into Custody

A man who police said was subject to amnesia was being held last evening by city police after he was picked up, wandering around in the 500 block of Washington street, last evening about 8:20 o'clock.

Parking Meter Receipts Rising, Gibson Reports

Receipts from the 262 parking meters now in operation in Cumberland show a slight increase for the first quarter of the current fiscal year, the first increase since the beginning of the war, it was announced yesterday by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

During the period from April 1 to June 30 of this year, receipts totaled $4,041.06, an increase of six and eight-tenths per cent over the $3,784.03 collected during the same period in 1944.

Gibson said that the recent increase in gasoline and mileage allowances to holders of "A" and "B" ration cards may be responsible for the increase. When the current A-B gasoline coupons became valid June 21, their value was increased from four to six gallons each; while the number of stamps in "B" books was increased from thirteen to twenty-six, allowing holders of the books an increase in mileage to 450 miles from the previous 325, provided they could show need for the extra stamps.

Pointing out that parking meter receipts had declined steadily from the beginning of the fiscal year 1941 until the present quarter, Gibson said that receipts from April 1, 1941, until March 31, 1942, amounted to $17,973.47, in the 1942-43 fiscal year, $16,011.47, in the 1943-44 fiscal year, $15,268.84, in the 1944-45 fiscal year, ending March 31 of the present year, $1,676.97.

Receipts for the week ending Sunday, July 15, totaled $233.44, an increase of about $30 over the preceding week, he added.

When 200 meters were installed here in September, 1936, Cumberland became one of the first cities in the United States to have parking meters. Gibson said that inquiries are still coming in from other cities regarding the meter system.

Baltimore Firemen Give Blood For Frostburg Firefighter

When a call went out for blood donors for a well-known Frostburg "fireman" yesterday at Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, the wards were soon swarming with Baltimore firemen who answered the summons.

Elmer S. Kight, Bowery street, Frostburg, secretary of the Frostburg Fire Department and treasurer of the state firemen's association, entered the hospital Sunday to undergo an operation for a tumor.

Following the operation, Baltimore firemen and other friends of Kight repeatedly called the hospital to inquire regarding his condition and learned that while Mr. Kight's condition was satisfactory, blood donors would be needed. Then the firemen started coming.

After the initial response, Charles Stallings, county president of the Baltimore County Fireman's Association, and Phil Regan, of the state association, started organizing the blood donors in shifts with the result that six Baltimore firemen were on duty at the hospital twenty-four hours a day—as long as necessary.

Dick Manning, another associate of Kight, called William A. Wilson, Midland, also of the state association, Sunday yesterday to report that "Elmer was fine and was being looked after O. K."

At any rate, Wilson mused, there shouldn't have been any dearth of blood donors due to the big response of the Baltimore firemen who believe in "sticking together."

Jackson Reports On Conference With OPA Group

Sixty members of the Independent Retail Food Dealers Association of Western Maryland last night met at the Central Y. M. C. A. to hear a report by J. G. Jackson, secretary, on a conference with OPA officials in Baltimore.

In his report, Jackson cited the fact that retail food dealers have long recognized the importance of price control and that the food dealers have contributed more to keeping down the cost of living than any other single group.

While the food dealers are strong in their support of OPA, Jackson said they had taken issue with certain methods of enforcement of certain OPA regulations. This mainly concerned the attitude of investigators when they walk into a store, he added.

One instance cited was an investigation of the sale of book matches in the county which later became known among grocers as the "Epilope of the Grocer Matches." While there were no fines for price ceiling violation in the sale of book matches here, it was pointed out in every other county in the state fines of from $25 to $50 were meted out by the OPA.

Jackson told the grocers, "I let them know that we were watching what they are doing and are determined to see to it that not only our members but the public receive fair treatment."

He also expressed appreciation for the courtesy shown him in the Baltimore offices of OPA and roundly praised the co-operative attitude and courtesy of Mrs. Mary Shaffer Jones, chief clerk of the OPA board here in Cumberland, and Mrs. Nina G. Wolford, head of the price panel.

Jackson said in his opinion the result of a better relationship with OPA and that methods of investigation would show an improvement as a result.

Local Soldier Serves in Division Which Receives Belgium Fourragere

The Belgium Fourragere has been awarded to the Second Armored Division, known as the "Hell on Wheels" Division, according to word received here by Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Kave, 237 Avirett avenue, whose son, Pfc. Jesse Kave, is a member of the division. The division also has the distinction of being the first non-Belgium unit ever to receive the special award.

Paul M. G. Levy, war correspondent for the combined Belgium Press, during the preliminary stages of the movement by the Belgium government to award the Second Armored Division the Belgium Fourragere explained the "Hell on Wheels" Division is the first foreign military unit to receive the citation and the second unit in World War II to receive it. The First Belgium Brigade received the Fourragere after landing on the continent last summer.

The First Belgium Brigade was formed by the men of the Belgium Armed Forces in Great Britain during the German occupation of Belgium, who fought on the battlefields of Normandy, Belgium and Holland from September, 1944, to May 1945 and are now in occupied territory, somewhere in Germany.

Princess Gives Ordinance

Prince Charles Regent of Belgium, and as such present chief of the Belgium state, signed the ordinance conferring the Fourragere 1940 to the Second Armored Division. Levy explained that the decree is written both in French and Flemish and begins with those traditional and solemn words, "Charles, Prince of Belgium, Regent of the Kingdom. To all present and to come, Salute."

It is a special honor awarded to units having performed bold strokes during the present war and having as such been cited twice at least in the Order of the Day of the Belgium army.

Explaining the Fourragere, Levy wrote, "European uniforms still bear remnants from the past. A very long time ago, the cavalry men used to carry the fodder for their horses on their own backs, attached by a cord. Very often the cord after having turned several times around the body, was used to tie the reins to prevent it from falling. Gradually the cord grew shorter and shorter and finally just a small piece of it remained around the shoulder. There was no matter of carrying fodder any longer, just an ornament remained, but the name was still attached to it, Fourragere or Fodder Cord."

In 1914 the Fourragere were credited in both French and Belgium armies as distinctive signs for the members of the units deserving the award. It was then composed of a cord with tassels and several knots ending with a metal pip.

In World War II it was simplified and it is now a circular cord six mm. in diameter made of wool, the center being cotton and the colors corresponding to the Croix de Guerre, which is red with light green stripes; the cord bears neither knot nor pip, and is worn around the right shoulder and passes under the arm. The old type of fourragere is kept for the flag. The flag of the unit is decorated during the solemn investiture and afterwards the members of the unit are allowed to wear the fourragere.

The husband of Mrs. Dorothy M. Kave, Allegany Grove, Pfc. Kave is a graduate of Allegany high school class of 1935. He entered the service July 29, 1943 and was sent overseas in April 1944. He has been with the Second Armored division, hauling supplies, since he landed in France, June 14, 1944. On July 30, 1944 he was slightly wounded when hit in the face by mortar shell. At present he is vacationing with members of his division in Berlin.
